

Catching the Light, Appreciating the Dark

A Phenomenological Inquiry

Light 'enlightens', darkness 'deepens'

On Towerland, amidst the rawness of the elements, one is able to observe the 'coming-into-being' of both light and dark and enter,
more fully, into the relationship between them.

Both light and darkness reveal, and both conceal.
They do so both out in the world and within our own souls.

We invite you to join us as, together, we research the relationship between light and dark.

A vital endeavour for these coming times.
